House Hands Appropriations Group Setback

Okays Supplemental Money Bill; Total Under Ike's Request

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bipartisan House vote for increased spending has given President Eisenhower a major legislative victory but may cost Republicans in Congress some 1960 campaign ammunition.

With heavy Democratic and Republican support, the House late Tuesday approved a $2,637,402,944 supplemental appropriations bill after handing its Appropriations Committee one of its worst setbacks in years.

Had Asked 225 Millions

The principal victory for Eisenhower lay in inclusion of 100 million dollars for the foreign aid development loan program. He had asked 225 millions but the committee had allowed nothing.

In addition, the House increased funds for eight other agencies for the remaining three months of the present fiscal year, though not as much as Eisenhower had asked.

None of the spending will directly affect the 77-billion-dollar budget Eisenhower has proposed for next year.

As the bill went to the Senate, it allotted $177,890,500 more than the committee had approved but still was $207,551,532 below the total requested by the President.

Extra money added to the committee's usually violate recommendations were the 100 million for the Development Loan Fund, $50,300,000 for defense education programs, $100,000 for the Recreation Resources Review Commission, 24 million for the District of Columbia, $4,306,500 for in-patient veterans, $554,000 for out-patient care of veterans, $2,100,000 for the Treasury Department, 18 million for the Post Office Department and $20,000 for the Narcotics Bureau.

Pay For Salary Increases

Much of the added money was asked to pay for salary increases Congress voted last year.

Although the money for the Development Loan Fund fell 125 million dollars short of what the President had sought, it was the amount agreed upon as a "realistic" by his House leaders.

The fund is used to make loans to friendly foreign nations for economic development under the foreign aid program.

The heavy backing from Republicans was viewed by some Democratic leaders as having taken away much of the momentum from the current GOP drive to label Democrats as big spenders in next year's political wars.

Bill Would Make Tests Mandatory For Topsy Drivers

From Salem News Correspondent

COLUMBUS — Two bills designed to make a science of drunk driving charges were given first hearings Tuesday in the 103rd General Assembly.

The bills would require motorists suspected of intoxication to submit to tests to determine how much alcohol they had in their blood. The results of the tests would be classified like this:

Less than .05 per cent — sober.
.05 to .15 per cent — may or may not be drunk.

.15 per cent or more — drunk.

One of the measures, sponsored by Sen. J. Sherman Porter (D-Gallipolis), provides a mandatory fine of $100 to $1,000 and a 10-day to one-year jail sentence for first offenders.

Present penalties are a maximum $500 fine and three days' to six months' imprisonment.

Supporting the measures, Lloyd Shupe, chief chemist of the Columbus police department, told the senate judiciary committee 25 percent of those arrested last year for drunk driving refused to submit to tests.

"We've got to have some way to stop this thing," he said.

Asserting the bills "did not go far enough" in their drunkenness limit, Shupe declared that a person with .10 per cent or more alcohol in the blood stream "has no business being on the highway."

The chemist added that any of the various types of testing equipment are "good when operated properly."

DiSalle Pleads For Ban On Capital Punishment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio lawmakers today were studying Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's emotionally charged plea for outlawing capital punishment.

Against pyramiding odds, the Democratic governor from Toledo pleaded personally with the House Judiciary Committee Tuesday to give the entire House a chance to act on his proposal to ban executions.

It was an emotion-packed appearance during which DiSalle's voice wavered several times as he pleaded his case for what he called a civilized approach to the problem of murder. He asserted: "Capital punishment in and of itself is wrong. I have never seen a case yet where a cold-blooded murderer was deterred by a death penalty."

It was the first time this decade that a governor has appeared before a legislative committee in support of legislation. He said he appeared as a private citizen supporting a cause on which he feels deeply.

His appearance was the high point of a legislative day in which: The House Industry and Labor Committee recommended passage of a bill to extend from April 4 to Dec. 26 a temporary form of unemployment compensation to give jobless persons an extra 13 weeks of benefits.

The Senate revived and passed a once-defeated bill to establish the last Monday in May as Ohio's Memorial Day instead of May 30.

The bill by Sen. Ross Pepple (L-Allen) now goes to the House.

The Senate passed 18-12—with only one vote to spare—a bill to double from $7,500 to $15,000 a year the maximum income from fines and forfeitures a county library association may collect.

Passage came amid charges the law libraries are "private clubs for lawyers and judges at public expense."

DiSalle expressed confidence in his news conference that Ohio's utility rate-making formula will be changed this session.

DiSalle said he has a letter from Everett Kreuger, chairman of the Utilities Commission, which indicates Kreuger is "moving away from the RCN (replacement cost new, less observed depreciation formula)."

A spokesman for the Indian government, which has the only foreign diplomatic mission in Lhasa, said he had "no correct

Ike Says Reds Can't Bluff U.S. Into Talks

Hints Attendance at Summit Depends on Ministers' Progress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he believes the Western Allies will have to meet at the summit with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to get any sort of valid agreement on German problems.

But no one is going to command the United States and the other Western powers to show up at a top level conference, the President told a news conference emphatically.

Will Not Be Bluffed

The West will not be bluffed or blackmailed into going to the summit, he said.

Eisenhower thus said anew, although indirectly, that his attendance at any summit meeting will be contingent on progress at an earlier conference of East-West foreign ministers.

The President was asked specifically whether he attaches any conditions to meeting at the summit with Khrushchev and this country's Western Allies.

At the time of Eisenhower's talk with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan there were reports from British quarters that Eisenhower had agreed unconditionally to go to a summit meeting.

Will Be Made Public

Today the President noted that the reply of the Western Allies to a March 2 Soviet note regarding a summit conference has now been coordinated with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. That reply, he added, will be made public soon, and the answer to the matter of any conditions in connection with a summit meeting will be disclosed in that note.

But he went on to say that his convictions concerning summit conference have been known for years and that he has not changed them.

He added he doesn't expect to change them unless something cataclysmic develops.

That was an obvious allusion to his statements, as recently as a week ago, that he would go to a summit meeting if developments in the meantime should warrant it.

Posse Seeks Oregon Gunman Wounded Policeman, Abducted Another

BROWNSVILLE, Ore. (AP)—A posse was poised to search today for a gunman who sought sanctuary in the hills after abducting one police chief and wounding another.

Sheriff George Miller said the gunman was Richard Allen Hunt, 27, a Harrisburg, Ore., dairy worker armed with a pistol, a .30 caliber carbine and 300 rounds of ammunition.

More than 100 policemen were pressed into the search for Hunt. They were joined by FBI agents from Portland.

The FBI said the 5-10, 160-pound Hunt, a former inmate of the Montana State Prison, was sought on a federal warrant that charged interstate transportation of a stolen car.

Late Tuesday, Police Chief Ernest McPhee at Harrisburg sought to arrest Hunt for having improper license plates on his car.

McPhee was taken prisoner at gun point. He was released 10 miles out of town.

McPhee, picked up by another motorist, then phoned to Brownsville, alerting Police Chief Robert Kennow and state policeman Gene Richardson.

A few minutes later, they spotted Hunt refueling his car in a service station here, and gave chase as the dairy worker sped out of town.

On the outskirts of Brownsville Hunt's car veered out of control into a ditch.

Hunt raced from the car into a nearby barn.

In the exchange of shots that followed, Kennow fell with a bullet wound in the head. Residents saw Hunt flee from the barn, splash across a waist-deep creek and vanish into timbered ridge.

Bands of armed men roamed through the rugged Cascade Mountain foothills until darkness fell, then set up mobile patrols along backwoods roads.

The wounded police chief was taken to nearby Lebanon, where a doctor said: "I think Kennow has a chance for recovery."

Move Pleases Nasser, Soviets

Iraq Withdraws From U.S.-Supported Pact

LONDON (AP) — The Baghdad Pact was in the market for a new name today following Iraq's withdrawal from the U.S.-supported anti-Communist alliance.

Premier Abdel Karim Kassem formally pulled his country out of the alliance Tuesday in a move seemingly designed to please both the pan-Arab followers of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the Soviet bloc.

The alliance took its name from the Iraqi capital, where the pact was signed in 1955 by Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain. The other four governments and the United States already had written off Iraq as a military ally.

Kassem had boycotted all pact activities since his revolutionists overthrew the pro-Western monarchy last July, and the alliance's headquarters are now in Ankara, the Turkish capital.

The first reaction from the United Arab Republic was one of disdain. The semi-official Middle East News Agency, repeating the old charge that the pact sought to destroy Arab nationalism, said this also was the aim of "Kassem's policy as well as the penetration of Communist imperialism into Iraq."

Nasser has accused Kassem of joining the Communists in a campaign against the U.A.R. and Arab unity. Kassem, backed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, has accused Nasser of fomenting the recent abortive army revolt in northern Iraq.

Diplomats said that Kassem, though publicly trying to ignore Nasser's attacks, may be feeling the pressure of the U.A.R. leader's pan-Arab movement. There was speculation that the Iraqi premier hoped to demonstrate to the Arab world that he was free of Western influence. But Kassem's communist backers in Baghdad and Moscow also have assailed the alliance with the West ever since its formation, and his withdrawal from it was certain to please them.

Powers said Mrs. Church told the mother, Ellen Church, 38, a former schoolteacher, will be given a psychiatric examination. No charges have been filed.

Brooks Church, 40, a microbiologist, came home from work to find his wife and two other children, Elizabeth, 14, and Stephen, 9, under the influence of drugs.

The children later told police their mother gave them sleeping tablets and told them they were calcium pills.

Powers said Mrs. Church told Robert Burdge, a friend of the family, that she had killed the babies.

Her husband quoted her as saying: "They are gone away and are never coming back."

Church told police: "I can't believe it. She was a wonderful wife and mother."

The Churches moved here several years ago from Youngstown, Ohio. Church, 40, works for the Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co. at nearby Morris Plains.

The bodies of the babies were found in a playhouse 50 feet from the church home.

Police said Katherine had been

17 Shots Fired During Furious, Six-Mile Chase

Two Geauga Deputies Halt Fugitives' Car South of Chardon

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Four escapees from the Mahoning County jail were back in their cells here today following their capture in a gun battle with Geauga County sheriff's deputies.

The three men and a woman were captured Tuesday night on Ohio 306 about eight miles southwest of Chardon after a six-mile chase in which 17 shots were fired.

Two guards were overpowered by the three men in a jail break early Monday, but the tough one Tuesday night turned out to be the woman, Mrs. Lola Gordon, 40, of Toledo. She fired one of the .38-caliber revolvers which had been stolen in the jail break and told Geauga Deputy Charles Fritz as she surrendered:

"I wish I had hit you, I tried."

Three Youngstown Men

Also captured were three Youngstown men—Robert P. Herman, 36, held for armed robbery; Joseph Orville, 23, under sentence for burglary, and Donald Sweet, 24, held for breaking and entering. All are parole violators.

The fugitives were traveling in a 1933 Chevrolet stolen at Aurora in Portage County when they were spotted by Deputy Fritz and Special Deputy Lou Kovach, who had been alerted by radio by Aurora police. The deputies gave chase.

"When they saw we were after them they turned on the speed, going over 90 miles an hour," Fritz said. "Then they started shooting. They gave us 11 bullets. One of them went through our radiator and another through the hood. Deputies Shot 6 Times

"Kovach and I shot six times and hit their car with four of them. That seemed to discourage them. They pulled to the side of the road and got out."

Jukebox Setup Under Probe

Senate Investigators Call 2 Miami Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators look today into charges that mobsters used labor unions as pawns in maneuvering for monopoly control of Miami area jukebox operations.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the Labor-Management Committee hearing will center on Joseph (Joe Scootch) Indelicato and Charles Karpf, whom he described as Miami racketeers, and their relations with jukebox operator Joseph Mangone and others.

Among other things, Kennedy said, the hearing will show that racketeers sought variously to use the Upholsters Union, the Uplolsters Union, the Uplolsters Union, and the Teamsters in battling for complete control of Miami's jukebox industry.

Kennedy said the committee has evidence that strong arm violence was used against those who refused to bow to underworld demands.

The hearing marks another chapter in the committee's investigation of charges of a coast-to-coast plot by gangsters and corrupt labor union officials to muscle in on lucrative jukebox and other coin machine operations.

The committee had a brief encounter Tuesday with two old underworld figures, Mickey Cohen and Fred Sica. Both ducked behind Fifth Amendment pleas when questioned about allegations of shakedowns in Los Angeles against George M. Seedman, a cigarette vending machine operator.

Cohen, who insists he is leading an honest life, also refused to tell whether he owes the government more than a half million dollars of income taxes, or to discuss his sources of income. He said answers might incriminate him.

As for the shakedowns alleged by one witness, Cohen refused to say whether he and Sica had collected $11,000 as a price for being neutral in a trade war between Seedman and some business rivals.

ADMIT 100 BURGLARIES

SEATTLE (AP) — "If I had $100,000, I'd still pull burglaries," a sallow-faced youth said Tuesday as he told how he burgled more than 100 Seattle homes after throwing rocks through the windows.

"It just sort of came natural. I used to like to throw baseballs," Walter E. Kinell, 22, told newsmen and police.

"I get a big thrill out of it," he said. "I like the stealth and the dark. It could easily be 160 places." Kinell was arrested last November and admitted 103 burglaries. Because he had no prior record, sentencing was deferred for three years.

Kinell was arrested Monday night after a burglary which followed his pattern.

CHILDREN OF THE BIBLE

by Patrick and Garrison

TIMOTHY

"... From a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation..."

—II Timothy 3:15

The child Timothy was reared in one of the first Christian homes in history. For it was about the time of his birth that the disciples were first called by that term at Antioch.

The boy was the son of a Jewish mother—Eunice—and a Greek father whose name is not preserved to us. Not only Timothy's mother, but his grandmother, Lois had been converted to the new faith called Christianity. So his earliest memories were stories of Jesus—stories still fresh from the lips of many who had seen him.

These words, and the Scriptures he heard read each night, often occupied his thoughts as he played, close to the growing things of earth, with little concern for the problems of men.

He wondered: what is death? Why did He die? And he was no doubt told that death is a condition of sleep which no one need fear, if he is steadfast in the faith.

Jesus came forth from the tomb, leaving the winding cloths of death, to show men that He was God as He had told them, and they had not believed.

Young Timothy understood something of death because he was a close observer of life. He saw life breathed into the dilated nostrils of oxen as they silently inhaled the fragrance of the fields. He felt it in his small hand when he caught a bee in summer, held it for a moment, and let it go free. He sensed the security of life as he stooped to watch a glowworm among shadows at dusk.

When the Apostle Paul visited Timothy's home, he observed the zeal and understanding of the lad. He learned that the boy already had distinguished himself among the people of his neighborhood as a witness to Christ's message.

When Paul left Lystra, where Timothy lived, he asked the youth to accompany him on his missionary journey. Timothy agreed, and from that time on, became one of the early sowers of the Gospel seed.

"He worketh the work of the Lord," said Paul. "As a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel."

Jaycees At Columbiana Plan Easter Egg Hunt on Saturday

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana Jaycees have chickens working overtime this week as they prepare for their second annual Easter Egg Hunt, to be staged Sunday at Firestone Park where more than 900 of the hen fruit will be scattered for the bright eyes of community children to spot.

A total of 18 prizes will be split between two age groups — from 1 to 4 and from 5 to 9 — with one award in each division to the youngster uncovering the greatest number of the colored, hard-boiled eggs, and other awards for finders of specially-marked eggs.

Robert Stephens, project chairman for the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said the center of activities will be at the bath house in the park. Time of the hunt is 3 p.m. Assisting Stephens are Bill Rapp, Dick Souder, Jim Hunt and Jim Jensen.

New York City Seeking Statehood? Council Says So

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City is looking into the possibility of seceding from New York and seeking statehood.

The suggestion that the city might become a sovereign state caused the state Senate to rock with laughter. But the city fathers maintained they weren't just whistling "Dixie."

Demands for separation of the city from the rest of the state go back almost 100 years. The first was made by Mayor Fernando Wood in 1861. Since then bills calling for secession have been introduced into the Legislature many times.

How to do it legally has always been a question.

A move calling for a committee to study the possibility was introduced in the City Council Tuesday, and referred to the Rules Committee for study.

The move came in the wake of a bitter fight between the city and the state over money. The city government, which is Democratic, said it must have new taxes this year to balance its budget. Permission was needed from the Legislature, which is Republican.

The city leaders claimed they had to go "hat in hand" to Albany. There, they said, they found New York City treated like an "unwanted stepchild." They didn't get all the taxing power they wanted.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's immediate response was to lop 32 million dollars off the budget, announcing that the pinch would be felt by 80,000 city employees who would get smaller pay raises, or none at all.

The mayor's austerity program brought a wave of protest from city employees. Some 9,000 of the city's teachers threatened mass resignations. Other city employees scheduled a one-day protest stoppage — 30,000 strong — next Tuesday. Later they hinted they might stay out longer.

At Albany, the state Senate howled with laughter when a resolution was introduced to let New York City secede.

FIRECRACKERS KILL MAN

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)—A farmhand scaring blackbirds from a cornfield with powerful firecrackers was killed Tuesday when a box of "giant salutes" exploded under his arm.

Deputy sheriff Frank O'Connell said Lawson Wilkes lived about five minutes after the blast. A spark from Wilkes' pipe apparently blew into the box, setting off all the explosives at once.

Wilkes was walking down rows of corn ready for harvest. He carried the box of firecrackers under his arm, lighting them one by one from his pipe and hurling them around the field.

Mrs. Halhai Plans To Appeal Conviction

CLEVELAND (AP) — Attorneys for Mrs. Emma Halhai plan to appeal the disorderly conduct conviction handed the plump 19-year-old woman for tossing a rock when Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan appeared in Cleveland.

A former Freedom Fighter from Hungary, Mrs. Halhai posted a $200 bond Tuesday after Municipal Judge Mary B. Grossman fined her $25 and costs.

Defense attorney Charles J. Kersten, former Wisconsin congressman, said he is appealing the verdict so the American people will get the right idea.

He said people will get the idea from Mrs. Halhai's jury trial "that she threw the rock for revenge." Kersten asserted that Mrs. Halhai's act was intended "to do away with the mask of hypocrisy under which Mikoyan came here" Jan. 7.

Repeatedly during the trial, Kersten tried to elicit testimony on Russian activities in Hungary. Judge Grossman sustained Assistant City Prosecutor Theodore S. Holtz's objections that Russian brutality in Hungary was not an issue in this case.

Kersten and Hungarian leaders here said two members of Mrs. Halhai's family were slain by Russian soldiers and her mother was ravaged by them.

Searchers Seek Two Missing In Plant Blast

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Searchers sifted through the ruptured interior of a meat packing plant today looking for two workers believed missing in a freak disaster which claimed five lives.

Five workers died Tuesday when an ice house atop the seven-story brick building collapsed. It ripped huge holes in each floor in its dive to the basement. Sixteen other workers were injured.

Tons of rubble and meat were piled at the base of the building. The stinging aroma of ammonia was prevalent as the searchers continued their task.

Company officials said they are fairly certain the missing men are buried in the debris and presumed dead. They were identified as Claud Wilkinson and James McIntosh.

Scores of lives were saved when seconds elapsed before each floor section gave way. Workers said they heard muffled rumbles similar to an earthquake and scurried to safety.

Hoffa Locates the Union Issue

In his union's magazine, The International Teamster, James R. Hoffa blasts union leaders who are not standing pat in opposition to all proposed union reform laws.

"We were never elected by our members to sell out labor by agreeing to legislation that can destroy the American labor movement," he declares.

Speaking of his own union, the Teamsters, President Hoffa says, "We can take care of ourselves. . . . We will not be hurt as much as other unions by any law that is passed, because workers will continue to turn to the Teamsters Union for strong representation. . . . Despite the false charges, 'corruption' is no issue in our union. Otherwise, we could never have survived the last two years of assault."

The reference here is, of course, to the McClellan committee's investigations of corrupt practices by unions and management. Many witnesses, including the first and still the most memorable, Dave Beck, have been Teamster officials.

Corruption is not an issue in the Teamsters Union. It was not an issue while Beck was president. It is not an issue now, and it was not an issue when Daniel J. Tobin was president.

This is the key to unlock the dilemma of the American people about the nature of the labor movement, which is always presented in one light and almost always operates in another light.

It is presented as a free association of working people who have banded together in their own interest according to democratic principles. But it operates more often than not as an involuntary organization dominated by autocratic leaders answerable to no one but their own henchmen.

President Hoffa of the Teamsters is correct. Corruption is not an issue in his union. Other presidents of other unions would be justified in saying that free elections, the handling of trust funds and the rights of individual members are not issues in their unions. They aren't issues inside unions at all.

They are issues between unionism and the U. S. public, which is taking the position that nothing in this country can be too big to handle — not the trusts and monopolies at the beginning of this century nor the unions that have grown so powerful in the middle of the century.

How's Your Discomfort Index?

By PETER EDSON

Something new may be added to U.S. Weather Bureau reports and forecasts on an experimental basis in some localities this summer. It will be a "Discomfort Index," or "D.I." In effect it will be an effort to give scientific numbers to the old saying that, "It ain't the heat the gets me — it's the humidity."

Weather reports today give both these measurements. High and Low temperatures are given for 24-hour periods and "relative humidity" — which is the percentage of moisture the air holds, compared with the maximum it could hold at that temperature. What a weather scientist has been seeking is one number to tell the whole story.

One old suggestion has been to add temperature to relative humidity and divide the sum by two, to get "humiture."

For example, temperature 100, relative humidity 80, added together make 180, divided by two equals 90 humiture.

Temperature 100, relative humidity 20 would give a humiture average of 60, which would be comfortable.

BUT WEATHER EXPERTS SAY this rule of thumb is too simple and not very exact. So they have cooked up a couple of formulas to give a more accurate D.I. One is too complicated to go into. The simpler is:

D.I. equals four-tenths of the sum of dry and wet bulb thermometer readings, plus 15. Or D.I. equals .4 (DB plus WB) plus 15.

As an example, take noon readings for a midsummer day of 96 dry bulb, 70 wet bulb. The sum is 166. Four-tenths of that is 66.4. Add 15 and the D.I. is 81.4.

Earl C. Thom, the U.S. Weather Bureau climatologist who invented the term "discomfort index" and who has done most of the research on it, says that about 10 per cent of the people will be uncomfortable when the D.I. reaches 70. Half will be uncomfortable at 75 and everybody will suffer when D.I. is above 79.

U.S. WEATHER BUREAU OF

files aren't sure how valuable the D.I. will become. That's why it's being introduced gradually this year. If "D.I." catches on and the expression becomes part of the language, all weather bureaus may have to report it for preceding 24 hours and make forecasts on maximum readings likely for the day ahead.

The need for dry and wet bulb temperature readings to compute D.I. may promote the sale of the two types of thermometers in "sling psychrometers" as they're called, to make accurate readings. The wet bulb must be swung in an arc to evaporate the water. And tables will have to be prepared that will give instant D.I. figures from dry and wet bulb temperature readings, to save figuring.

D.I. tables will have a much more practical application than telling an individual how uncomfortable he is.

The numbers will also tell electric power companies and superintendents of theaters, hospitals, hotels and office buildings how much air conditioning they will have to turn on to keep their patrons comfortable.

Concentrating the Fire

By TRUMAN TWILL

There are so many things I cannot do that I take inordinate pride in the things I have mastered.

Not the least of my pride, moreover, is the fact my mastery of these things was self-taught. There were no experts to tell me how to burn brush piles of green brush in the winter.

In the light of the fact 99,999 out of 100,000 people never need to know how and therefore don't care how it's done, my secret is of no interest.

The rare exception who needs to know, moreover, already has found out, either through instruction or trial and error. So here goes nothing.

First, you must comprehend the nature of fire, which is what every arsonist knows that not everybody knows. Heat must be concentrated on the object that is to be burned.

This is not easy in a winter gale, though at one stage in the burning process the gale itself becomes an aid, like a gigantic blower — but not until there is a fire to blow.

The secret is to start small — not to expect anything at the beginning. As in all fire — building, there must be dry wood to start, though if there are enough newspapers wet wood can be dried out.

The prime necessity is to get a small fire started underneath the brush pile on the side from which the wind is blowing. Nurse it along until it grows up to campfire proportions. Forget about the brush for the first 30 minutes.

Then using a set of pruning shears with long handles, cut up the adjacent brush into pieces small enough to lie flat on the fire. These cuttings must be heated to the combustion point before they can burst into flame. Big brush cannot be burned until it's small enough to touch the fire.

Larger pieces can be added later, when they too are hot enough to burn. Meanwhile, continue to add snippings, because the larger pieces will never flame; they will smolder and char.

Eventually, however, they will be consumed. The wind will fan them into glowing coals. And from time to time the accumulation of heat from the central fire will dry out the nearest parts of the brush pile sufficiently to let the flames rush through its twigs for a few minutes.

Why would anyone want to burn green brush under adverse conditions? It's a fair question. There are winter days when nothing else seems worth the effort, and eventually a brush pile must be burned. Besides, brush — burning is dangerous when grass fires are a menace and uncomfortable when the weather turns warm.

And there's also the challenge (to prove) that the seemingly impossible can be done, if you know how. It's a matter of concentrating the fire until everything around it has been raised to combustion temperature.

Anything not impervious to fire can be burned if it is made hot enough — even a pile of springy, wet-sap-filled brush.

In general people lose interest in the D.I. if it's around 60. So far no discomfort index has been devised for cold weather though the Army did some work on relating the temperature and wind for a "real" temperature in past months.

Disturbing Words

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Some Doctrines Have Socialistic Flavor

Strange and disturbing words are coming from some Democrats on Capitol Hill these days. They have a socialistic flavor. One doctrine being given some endorsement is that profits are, in effect, sinful, that "retained earnings" are bad and that companies should not save up for a rainy day but should let the deluge come. These companies are being told now that they ought to borrow money for new capital hereafter and not try to accumulate it out of earnings.

To save up money to buy new plant and equipment has always seemed heretofore to be the principal way to expand the economy through the private-enterprise system but, curiously enough, now this method is being denounced as a departure from that system.

READING the testimony a few days ago of Walter Reuther, head of the largest automobile union in the world and that of Rep. Wright Patman, (D-Tex.), before the House Banking and Currency Committee, one comes across these passages:

"Mr. Reuther: In the auto industry we expanded since the war in excess of eight billion dollars, and more than 90 per cent of that eight billion dollars was paid for by the American consumers of automobiles, and only 10 per cent represented new capital. I mean something quite revolutionary is taking place in the American system of free enterprise.

"The whole concept was that there was a money market and, if you wanted to expand your company to the tune of a billion dollars, you floated bonds or you went into the money market and you got people, based upon the attractiveness of your corporate effort, to invest their money in your plant. That is an old-fashioned way of doing it. They don't do it that way any more.

"Mr. Patman: I think you can truthfully say that the capital thus acquired is what could be called costless capital. In other words, the price of the product was increased enough to take enough money away from the consumer to put it into the fund for retained earnings, of which the people in charge would get the benefit, as distinguished from the old way of selling the goods at the lowest possible price, in a competitive market and letting the person keep that money which is being taken away from him for retained earnings to invest anywhere he wanted to so he would get the benefit. . . .

"Mr. Reuther: I think what you say is absolutely correct. I think this is consumer-financed capital. . . . They say, 'you want an automobile, this is the price you pay,' even though factored into that price a portion is earmarked for expansion. . . ."

Slap-Happy Character

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't want to play Lady MacBeth or be a big fat star," said Audrey Meadows. "I just want to keep working."

"I'm a kind of slap-happy character. I've loved every show I've been on."

And titian-haired Audrey, the China-born daughter of an Episcopal missionary — she used to teach Sunday School — has been a standout in practically every branch of the entertainment field.

She started as a concert singer at 16. She sang and danced in Broadway musicals. She became known as television's brightest, breeziest young comedienne.

After a two-year layoff, she resumed her career as a quiz show performer and guest star. This Friday night she tries a new role, pinch-hitting for Edward R. Murrow.

"I'm glad they had a sinking spell and hired me for this job," she said, cheerfully. "I've always wanted to be a newspaper gal."

"I've been very fortunate in the shows I've been on and the people I've worked with," said Audrey, who has a nice trait of always speaking well of the other fellow.

She brings a great gusto to living and enjoys a varied life. Because the only musical instrument she can play is the piano—"with one finger"—she plans to take lessons on the guitar.

"I suffer from the feeling there isn't time to do everything I want to," she said. "But I guess if there were time, that would be complete boredom, wouldn't it? It would be frightening."

Her favorite color is bright red. She says it makes her feel good. She likes to read, water ski, cook and watch baseball and football.

The only thing that bores her is "a closed mind." The thing that attracts her most is "a curious mind."

"So many people today are negative," she said. "I believe in kindness and a faith in something or someone beyond ourselves. If we all practiced kindness on a larger scale, we'd have fewer misunderstandings on all levels."

"I don't believe much in anger or fear.

The only thing that really makes me angry is the sight of sidered a virtue in business to plow back into the company as much of the earnings as possible after paying the stockholders each year a reasonable return on their investment. This has been called the planting of "seed money." It has been hailed with pride as the great achievement of American business enterprises — growth through one's own efforts. Constant expansion of an entire industry has thus been assured and this has meant also the creation of more and more jobs each year for an increasing number of people.

Now business is being told that it must pay higher wages, yet reduce prices and depend on borrowings in the uncertain money markets of today and tomorrow. When money is borrowed at higher and higher interest rates, Uncle Sam, of course, has to bear most of the cost — 52 cents out of every dollar of interest expense, because this is deductible for tax purposes. Taxpayers generally would have to carry more and more of the borrowing burden of an individual industry if "retained earnings" were discouraged.

But anyone who thinks that, out of the 600 million dollars which represent the annual average of "retained earnings" for the last 12 years in the motor industry, all or any considerable part could be used to reduce prices is woefully mistaken.

In the first place, businesses are supposed to set aside, anyhow, every year a certain sum to pay off any debt incurred by the sale of bonds. Likewise, provision has to be made for the payment of interest on debt. In addition, provision must be made for funds to carry over from one year to another any expense due to an unfavorable turn in business or if a new model has to be pioneered.

UNCERTAINTY as to whether capital would or would not be available in the money markets two or three years hence could mean the difference between a management decision to create new jobs or to lay off workers.

After all, it is sound reasoning for a whole industry to put aside at least 60 million dollars a year as capital in order to safeguard a volume of business that involves 25 times as much in a given year.

This means putting aside four cents out of every dollar received annually for the buyers of automobiles. For the figures show that in 1955 the total value of all cars and trucks sold was nearly 15 billion dollars. So, while 90 per cent of 8 billion dollars of "retained earnings" in 12 years sounds like a lot of money, it is only 60 million a year of new capital, which is a relatively small insurance fund considering the risks involved in the nation's No. 1 industry.

Congress back in 1935 tried to compel the distribution of profits by imposing a penalty for undistributed surplus. The net result was to intensify the depression so that it became worse in 1937. Congress promptly confessed its error and repealed the law.

Enthusiasm Plus

If enthusiasm like the spontaneous support given to the Salem High School basketball team in its recent tournament campaign could be applied to all Salem community enterprises, only the greatest degree of success would result.

Community Fund drives and similar worthy programs would be assured before they ever started. Civic achievement is not impossible. It requires only the wholehearted support of every citizen who is interested in making Salem a better place in which to live.

Someone in authority ought to make the Quaker basketball team honorary members of the Chamber of Commerce. Their exploits in the sports world probably focused more attention on Salem than any other program that could be dreamed up. The enthusiasm was good for everyone.

TERMITES ARE now tax deductible. If they are printers and not routers. Property loss deduction due to them has never been allowed before but termites now get tax office consideration when damage is so abrupt it falls within the category of "property destruction of a sudden and unexpected nature."

If lumber-chewing bugs have been around for years, no dice. Only if you feel termites have sneaked up on you with a cry of "Surprise" and you suddenly find the old homestead a victim of a bug-blit are your losses through insects deductible.

This will increase tax office arguments everywhere, since termites, invisible to the naked eye, are generally long-distance operators and work for decades before discovery.

We deplore the court ruling. Income tax blanks have been tough enough without termites getting into them. Let them into tax forms and they may get into taxpayers and notary publics. Revenue Department had better put in some tight clauses:

1. If you claim loss from termites state day

Help Crippled Child

For years the Salem Rotary Club has helped to take care of the treatment of crippled children—boys and girls whose lot in life requires that they must wear braces, use wheelchairs or get about with the aid of crutches.

Such humanitarian treatment requires funds for financing a year-round program and the Easter Seal campaign now being conducted by the club can yield the needed amount of money, if you will contribute. Physical therapy enters into the treatment of crippled children and this, too, takes money.

Use the Easter Seals which the Rotary Club has mailed to your home. Pasted on a letter or package, they will remind a friend that his help, like yours, is needed. Committee Chairman C. J. Mosher would appreciate your contribution today.

and hour of discovery.

2. Can you tell a termite from a woodpecker?

3. Name three witnesses to support claim termites staged a sneak attack and had not been around the house for years.

4. If damage is over $5,000 have notary public notarize termites.

5. Have you filed previous claim for tax deduction via termites?

6. Who won, you, the termites or the Revenue Department: (In case of a tie it will be necessary for you to move to a new house and get a fresh start with new termites.)

Junketing congressmen are revealed as big tipsters. It's great fun when you're not using your own money. We once knew a political office holder who said, "I always tip 30 per cent. Fifteen for me and fifteen for the waiter."

FASHIONS FROM DALLAS indicate that designers in the South-west have in mind the creation of clothes that glorify the figure. The costume (left) as done by Ike Clark combines a form-fitting imported linen dress with a brief, slightly shaped jacket. Dress is beige while jacket is beige and geranium. The afternoon sheath (center) by Herman Marcus is cotton lace molded to the figure. Three rows of bias banding are finished with flat bows. White cotton georgette is used by Charles Dickey for an afternoon dress (right) with obi sash in do'ted brocade. Skirt is soft and full.

Franklin Rudibaugh, Bride Honeymooning In South

W. Franklin Rudibaugh and his bride, the former Joan Cecile Wassink, are honeymooning through the southern states following their marriage Sunday afternoon in the East Fairfield Methodist Church. Bouquets of white gladioli, ferns and lighted seven branch candelabra formed the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Mark George.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wassink of RD 2, Columbiana. Mr. and Mrs. Adam Rudibaugh of 626 N. Market St., Lisbon, are the bridegroom's parents.

"Always," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Miss Beverly Baile of Columbiana, with Miss Eileen Grim of Columbiana as organist.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white taffeta, styled with an elongated bodice, brief sleeves and a scalloped sweetheart neckline embellished with sequins and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt swept to a chapel train.

A pearl trimmed taffeta crown held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. Her white Bible was marked with yellow rosebuds and white gladioli. Mr. Wassink gave his daughter in marriage.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Sharon Wassink. She appeared in a street-length gown of blue lace over taffeta.

The bridesmaids, Miss Joyce Bender and Miss Lucy Evans of Lisbon, wore identical dresses of pink lace over taffeta.

The attendants carried bouquets of yellow and white carnations with matching floral headbands.

Donald Rudibaugh of Lisbon served his brother as best man. The ushers were John Farrington of Leetonia and Nick Hollian of Archibald.

Mrs. Wassink was attired in a blue crepe dress with blue and white accessories and a red rose corsage. With her blue lace dress, Mrs. Rudibaugh wore blue and white accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds.

The couple were greeted by 200 guests at the reception which followed in the church social room. The bride's table was appointed in pink and white, and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal figurine.

Mrs. Helen Kessler, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Velma Cope, aunt of the bridegroom, Miss Beverly Rudibaugh, cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Joyce Kessler, cousin of the bride, served.

The guests were present from Mentor, Dayton, Chardon, Wellsville, East Liverpool, Poland, Rogers, Cambridge, Cortland, Salem.

Lisbon, Leetonia and Columbiana. A 1956 graduate of Fairfield High School, Mrs. Rudibaugh is employed in the McMillan Abstract office in the courthouse at Lisbon. Her husband graduated from David Anderson High School in Lisbon in 1955 and is a senior at Kent State University.

For traveling the bride chose a turquoise plaid suit with a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Upon their return, they will reside at 377 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudibaugh were hosts at the rehearsal party Saturday evening.

None Hurt In Two Highway Accidents
Two minor accidents were investigated by the State Highway Patrol Tuesday.

Autos driven by Herman Hoppe, 23, and Edward Pugh, 49, both of East Liverpool, collided on County Rd. 430, one and a half miles east of East-Liverpool, at 6:40 a.m. Tuesday.

A car operated by Warren Meek, 35, of East Palestine, traveling north, went out of control along Rt. 7, six miles south of Rogers, and went into a ditch on the left side of the road. Meek was cited for reckless operation.

GRASS FIRES CHECKED
Firemen were called to extinguish the following grass fires Tuesday: at 9:56 a.m., Whinnery Rd.; 2:55 p.m., 1760 Cleveland St. and 5:59 p.m., Tolerton's Lane.

Firemen were also called to put out a fire in an overheated car tattle at 1750 E. State St. at 10:29 a.m.

DIES OF CAR INJURIES
DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — William Duane Mitchell, 24, of Rt. 2, Hicksville, died Tuesday in a Fort Wayne, Ind., hospital of injuries suffered earlier in the day when his car hit a bridge on Ohio 2 at Hicksville. Highway Patrol investigators said Mitchell apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Escapes
Fritz had radioed for help during the chase and his call was answered by deputies in three other cars.

The fugitives had been on the run continuously since their escape. "We didn't get any sleep," Herman said. "We always had to be on the lookout and tried to keep on the back roads."

Forced to accompany the four when they escaped was a guard, William Driskell, who was later found in a ditch between here and Warren with handcuffs on and his feet bound.

Paused to Free Woman
The three men paused long enough in their flight to free Mrs. Gordon and take her with them. Officers here said she accompanied them willingly.

An extensive hunt for the escapees was made near the Pennsylvania border northeast of here following a filing station holdup at Maysville, Pa. Tuesday. The attendant's description fit the four.

Later, authorities of Ashtabula, Lake and Geauga counties were alerted when the owner of a general store near Geneva in Ashtabula County reported three men and a woman stopped for a road map.

Annexation Measure Discussed By Group

COLUMBUS — Measures to ease annexation and township boundary changes by cities were heard by the house metropolitan areas committee yesterday.

Spokesmen for several cities in the state and of the Ohio Municipal League urged passage of the annexation bill, which is aimed at clarifying present procedures and relaxing requirements now considered outdated.

Many of the witnesses cited instances where both the city and those in an adjacent area wanted to annex but were blocked by provisions in the present statutes.

The township bill would simply require that county commissioners set up a separate township commission to do so by the city's legislative body.

information" on the latest developments in Tibet.

On Formosa, Chinese Nationalist officials, cheered by the revolt, said that Red China was rushing strong reinforcements to Tibet, where the occupation force has been estimated at 50,000 troops.

Chiang Kai-shek met with top leaders of his government in Taipei to discuss ways of capitalizing on the Tibetan uprising. The Chinese Nationalists — like the Communists — still consider Tibet a part of China.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Philadelphia trucking firm, Brooke Matlack, Inc., has asked the Utilities Commission for flasher signals or a full-time watchman at the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing on Ohio 7 in Wellsville (Columbiana County). The company said the crossing is hard to see at night because of "very bright flood lights located on railroad property, beamed in the eyes of the motor vehicle driver."

Movies will be shown and new home counselors will be installed.

Dodgers, Braves, Pirates Win Exhibition Games

Cubs Roll Over Indians 4-2; Giants Trample Red Sox 10-4

By The Associated Press
Don Drysdale's "tired elbow" is wide awake.

It never took a rest Tuesday as the 22-year-old Los Angeles right-hander pitched nine shutout innings and the Dodgers upped their exhibition record to 10-3, best in the majors.

The Philadelphia Phils were the victims of Drysdale's 1-0 performance, a five-hitter at Saratoga. The Phils got only two runners past first base after the fourth inning, and although the Dodgers got only three hits, a double by Wally Moon and a triple by Jim Gentile in the fourth inning were enough. It was the first complete spring game by a Dodger pitcher in three years.

When Drysdale flopped at the start of the 1958 season some said it was nervousness before "hometown" fans. Don was born in Nuyys, Calif.

Recently he brushed aside any detailed explanations of his slow '58 start with this statement:

"My arm just wasn't in shape. I used to get tired in the elbow. That's where I feel it when my arm isn't strong. This spring I feel I passed that tired elbow stage early."

Up until Tuesday only Bob Anderson of the Chicago Cubs had gone nine innings, but Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Pittsburgh's Vern Law made the step along with Drysdale. No American Leaguer has gone the route.

Spahn was as sharp as Drysdale, allowing only five hits in a 3-0 victory over St. Louis at St. Petersburg. The 38-year-old left-hander is the highest paid ($60,000) pitcher in baseball because he can come up with the big one.

Law stopped the much-improved Detroit Tigers 3-1 at Lakeland, as Rocky Nelson, the perennial minor leaguer, chipped in with three hits, including a home run. One of four hits off Law was a homer by Gail Harris.

Baltimore shelled Kansas City 11-3 at West Palm Beach. The Orioles, atop the AL spring standings with a 9-4 record, had 14 hits, including homers by Gus Triandos and Willie Tasby.

Washington hung the seventh straight defeat on Cincinnati, 7-6 at Tampa. Frank Robinson hit a grand slam homer in the Reds' sixth-run eighth after the Senators had finished scoring.

The Boston Red Sox' nosedive continued at Phoenix where the San Francisco Giants won 10-4. It was Boston's fourth straight loss after winning 10 of their first 11. Ernie Banks doubled home two runs in an eighth inning pinch hitting role as the Chicago Cubs broke a tie and defeated Cleveland 4-2 at Mesa. Rookie Joe Schaffernoth shut out the Indians on four hits for seven innings.

In a night game at Miami, the New York Yankees landed on rookie Rodolpho Arias of the Chicago White Sox for five runs on seven hits in the fifth inning, the last five in a row. The Yanks won it 6-4 and ended a string of 10 scoreless innings by Arias.

Cincinnati Tabbed As 'Dark Horse'

Reds' Managers Say Outcome This Year Depends on Pitching

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) —The Cincinnati Reds are being tabbed as the dark horse of the National League but that is bringing little solace to Manager Mayo Smith and General Manager Gabe Paul.

They realize that if something isn't done soon about the plight of their pitching staff, the Reds will be fortunate to finish in the first division.

Ask Smith to evaluate his club and he gives you several stock replies. He leaves it up to you to interpret them.

"It's hard to say whether the club is good, mediocre or bad at this point because we don't know about the pitching."

"Our pitching is the key. How far we go depends upon that. The truth of the matter is that DOES HE FIGURE? — Dave Nicholson, Baltimore's $100,000 bonus rookie squares off at a pitch are giving Nicholson a thorough going-over at the shop, another rookie, is behind the plate. Birds thrown by Luman Harris, Orioles coach. Danny Bir Miami training base.

Mayo is worried about his pitching, or lack of it. He has four veteran starters in Bob Purkey (17-11), Don Newcombe (7-13), Brooks Lawrence (8-13) and southpaw Joe Nuxhall (12-11). He has a couple of good looking youngsters in lefty Jimmy O'Toole and righty Orlando Pena.

O'Toole, a 20-game winner at Nashville, is the big hope. But Smith is afraid of the pressure.

The way the staff shapes up, Pena and Hal Jeffcoat will be the end relief men, Tom Acker and Willard Schmidt will be the middle men and Bob Mabe may win the No. 5 starting role.

Cincinnati has a balance of power, achieved mainly by the acquisition of right-handed hitting slugger Frank Thomas from Pittsburgh. The Reds' batting order lists left-handers Gus Bell, Vada Pinson, Jerry Lynch in the outfield and Ed Bailey behind the plate; with righthanders Frank Robinson at first, Johnny Temple at second, Roy McMillan at short and Thomas at third.

The suspicion is that Thomas, a mediocre third baseman but a good outfielder, will be switched to left field with Bell either peddled to another club or cast in a utility role. In that event, Eddie Kasko, an infield handyman, would take over at third base.

"We should score some runs," said Smith, "but sometimes it can be a case of feast or famine. What we're striving for is steady pitching and good balance. So far, it's not good, not bad, just in between."

Amateur Boxing Climax Set Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—An Australian and a 17-year-old Louisville high school student may be the show stealers tonight in the Golden Gloves 32nd intercity bouts.

The climax of amateur boxing's big jamboree will pit New York's Eastern champions against Chicago's Westerners in a 16-bout program in Chicago Stadium.

Among four bouts to be nationally televised (by ABC) starting at 10 p.m. EST is the light-heavyweight scrap between Tony Madigan of Sydney, a great crowd-pleaser in New York's Eastern finals, and Cassius Clay, Chicago champion from Louisville.

Madigan, 29, is Australian and British Empire amateur titleholder. He has lost only 5 of 99 bouts and twice participated in the Olympics. Clay will try to overcome the spread of experience with a knockout-packed right hand.

Other scheduled three-rounders to be televised include: 112 pounds — Angel Morales, New York, vs. Gil Yanez, Toledo; 147 pounds — Ken Suhrsky, New York, vs. Don Sargent, Minneapolis; 126 pounds — Lloyd Weeks, Brooklyn, vs. Don Eddington, St. Louis.

Nation's Top Pointmakers Vie In East-West Game Tonight

COLLEGE PARK, MD. (AP)—A pair of coaches who advocate ball control offense match wits tonight in an East-West college basketball game.

But don't look for a low-scoring contest.

The 10-man squads coached by Hank Iba of Oklahoma State and Bud Millikan of Maryland include some of the nation's top pointmakers, including All Americans Bailey Howell of Mississippi State (27.5) and Bob Boozer of Kansas State (25.7).

In addition, the coaches would have you know, ball control shouldn't be confused with delaying tactics.

"Ball control is when you set up each man on your team for his most effective shot," Iba said. "It may be after the second pass in your series or it may be on the fourteenth. But it's for setting up your Sunday shot—your best one."

During practice sessions this week Iba had the West working on ball control, but at the same time told each player to "do what you like."

Millikan, who played for Iba at Oklahoma A&M (now Oklahoma State) in 1938-41, also urged his East players to "take your shot."

The probable starting lineups: East: Lou Puccio, North Carolina State; Al Seiden, St. John's (N.Y.); Gene Tormohlen, Tennessee.

7:30, KYW, Wagon Train: Vera Miles appears in "The Sister Rita Story."

9, KYW, Milton Berle: (color) Yvonne DeCarlo, and the Four Lads are guests.

10, WEWS, Boxing: (special) Four of the championship bouts of the East-West Golden Gloves finals are scheduled to be telecast from Chicago.

10, WJW, Steel Hour: Roddy McDowall and Victory Jory appear in "Night of Betrayal."

Ennis Tries To Blast Way to Outfield Job

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Durable Del Ennis is trying to hammer his way into a steady outfield job with Cincinnati's Reds. It's an uphill job.

In exhibition games with the Reds here, he has made fairly steady contributions. He accounted for a run with a hit in Tuesday's game with a one-for-two performance.

Teammate Frank Robinson's grand slam homer in the eighth inning made the game close, but the Washington Senators edged the Reds anyway, 7-6.

Ennis, picked up from St. Louis in a trade, blasted the Cardinals for not using him last season.

"I batted only 329 times last season and 50 of those were as a pinch-hitter."

"I don't know what I hit as a pinch-hitter but I think I got only two hits. I fanned only 35 times all season and at least 20 of them must have been as a pinch-hitter."

"I'm not a pinch-hitter. I have to play every day to do a good job."

There is plenty of competition for the outfield berths. Gus Bell and Frank Robinson are regulars, young Vada Pinson seems a cinch to get a steady job. Bob Thurman and Pete Whisenant are good clutch hitters and Johnny Power has been hitting well in spring training.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

Muskellunge are beginning to bite at Leesville Dam.

Four were taken last week ranging from 26 to 45 inches in length. A Steubenville fisherman took home a 12-pounder while a Youngstown angler landed a 27-pound muskie that is a trophy fish regardless of where it is taken.

I believe this is the largest muskie ever taken at Leesville since they were introduced into the waters.

They should be finished with spawning activities and now it seems it is being in the right place at the right time that counts.

To be able to land a muskie over 15 pounds makes it all worth while regardless of how many trips you might make and come home empty handed.

They are common in ponds and streams among vegetation from Maine to Florida and west to the Great Lakes and the Mississippi basin.

They're excellent game fish, intolerant of competition, are very good eating but are on the bony side which makes them unpopular with some fish specialists.

I have caught lots of them in the Okefenokee Swamp in southern Georgia but I have never seen one that scaled over six pounds. One thing I know about them is that when you make a long cast and something hits your plug before its hits the water and all you see is the plug flying about ten feet up in the air, then you know a pickerel made a pass at it.

SOMETIMES they are hard to hook but when you do tie into one you will appreciate him as being a game fish.

The recent high winds broke the moorings on the floating dock at Zepernick that had been partly drug up on shore. Now the fish management boys will have to haul it back across the lake where it drifted back in among the dead trees and stumps.

The more I think about it the more I believe it would be better hook but when you do tie into one you will appreciate him as being a game fish.

Muskellunge are beginning to bite at Leesville Dam.

Four were taken last week ranging from 26 to 45 inches in length. A Steubenville fisherman took home a 12-pounder while a Youngstown angler landed a 27-pound muskie that is a trophy fish regardless of where it is taken.

10cHemus Convinced He Can Lift
Cards Out of Second Division

ST. PETERBURG, Fla. (AP)—Solly Hemus doesn't underestimate the task confronting him in his first season as a big league manager but he firmly believes he can lift the St. Louis Cardinals out of the second division.

The major's youngest and newest pilot, is an optimist at heart. He thinks his club can go all the way if it can come up with a hard-hitting right fielder, and if two or three of the young pitchers carry their impressive exhibition work into the regular season.

"It's a pretty good ball club," he said, "better than most people realize."

The scrappy little pilot singled out several youngsters who he believes will make a contender out of the Redbirds.

"Barring a complete reversal of form," he said, "three of our young pitchers — Ernie Broglio, Gary Blaylock and Bob Ginson — have earned a place on the staff."

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Headache Treatment Can Be Complicated

Rare indeed is the person who has never had a headache. The only good thing which can be said about a severe headache is that one forgets it almost at once. Although I have had my share, I cannot remember just exactly when each and every headache occurred nor how long it lasted. But severe and recurring headaches are really a problem and must be considered seriously by physicians.

IT IS BELIEVED that there are several kinds of recurring headaches. Some of them are brought on by emotional upsets, others are labeled migraine, and in still others additional causes are recognized.

It is now felt, however, that most headaches are associated with changes in the circulation of the blood vessels in the brain, though the cause of such changes may differ from one person to another. If the headaches are largely on one side, migraine is probable. This is a condition the origin of which is still somewhat obscure, although a family tendency is common. So far as remedies for migraine are concerned, there are drugs available which often can shorten or bring to a halt an attack if they are given at the earliest possible moment. But these drugs are powerful and should be taken only under careful supervision.

SEVERE OR REPEATED headaches are often difficult to diagnose. The complete history of the attacks, the kind and location of pain, and the preceding symptoms, if any, must be studied.

The physician who tries to discover the cause must know the circumstances under which the pain first developed, whether it came on gradually or suddenly whether it was constant or irregular, how long it lasted, what part of the head was involved, and similar facts. In addition to this, he must know whether nervous strain was present before the beginning of the headache.

A COMPLETE PHYSICAL examination is always desirable. The sinuses need to be eliminated as a cause and the eyes, also. Special tests may have to be made in order to find out whether the headaches come from local relaxation of the blood vessels.

The treatment of any type of severe headache involves two steps.

The first is to try to relieve the immediate difficulty as rapidly as possible. Some kinds of headaches, especially the so-called "bilious" type, can often be relieved by simple pain-killing drugs, like aspirin. The more severe varieties may go on in spite of drug treatment.

The second step is to try to identify the cause, or at least the physical or emotional factors which bring on the headaches. When this can be done successfully it often becomes possible to suggest steps which will keep them from occurring so often.
